What is a device? A device is any computer or screen you use to run Bizflow in your business. For example — the screen at the counter where orders are placed, the manager's computer, a second screen at the bar, or a cashier's workstation. Each of these counts as one device. A small restaurant with one counter screen is 1 device. A busy outlet with a counter screen, a bar screen and a manager's computer is 3 devices.

Annual renewal? For multi-device and integration packages, annual renewal is paid each year (from your installation or previous renewal date). A large part of it is server fees — the systems that let your devices talk to each other and stay in sync (orders, stock, and data across counter, bar, kitchen, and manager screens). It also covers software updates, security fixes, and support so your business keeps running on the latest, supported version of Bizflow.
